

1. This action arises out of Defendant's violations of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, 47 U.S.C. § 227, et seq. (the "TCPA") by negligently, knowingly, and/or willfully placing automated calls to Plaintiff's cellular phone without consent, thereby violating the TCPA.

2. This action is also brought under Nevada Revised Statutes Chapter 598.0918 (“NRS 598”) and Nevada Revised Statutes Chapter 41.600 et seq. (“NRS 41.600”) for Defendant’s deceptive trade practices as further described herein.

3. Plaintiff alleges as follows upon personal knowledge as to Plaintiff and Plaintiff’s own acts and experiences, and, as to all other matters, upon information and belief, including investigation conducted by Plaintiff’s attorneys.

4. Supplemental jurisdiction exists pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367 and this Court has original jurisdiction over Plaintiff’s TCPA claims. Mims v. Arrow Fin. Serv., LLC, 132 S.Ct. 740 (2012).

5. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b) & (c), because Plaintiff resides within the District of Nevada, a substantial portion of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this District, and Defendant regularly conducts business in this District.

PARTIES

6. The Plaintiff, KATHLEEN INGRAM (“Plaintiff” or “Mrs. Ingram”), is an adult individual residing in Las Vegas, Nevada.

7. Plaintiff is, and at all times mentioned herein was, a “person” as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 153(39).

8. Defendant COMENITY BANK (“COMENITY”), is doing business in the State of Nevada.

9. Defendant is and at all times mentioned herein was, a corporation and is a “person,” as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 153 (39).

10. COMENITY at all times acted by and through one or more of its agents or representatives.

THE TELEPHONE CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT OF 1991

11. In 1991, Congress enacted the TCPA in response to a growing number of consumer complaints regarding certain telemarketing practices.

12. The TCPA regulates, among other things, the use of automated telephone dialing systems.

13. 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1) defines an automatic telephone dialing system (“ATDS”) as equipment having the capacity –

(A) to store or produce telephone numbers to be called, using a random or sequential number generator; and

(B) to dial such numbers.

14. Specifically, 47 U.S.C. § 227(1)(A)(iii) prohibits any call using an ATDS or an artificial or prerecorded voice to a cellular phone without prior express consent by the person being called, unless the call is for emergency purposes.

15. According to findings by the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”), such calls are prohibited because automated or prerecorded telephone calls are a greater nuisance and invasion of privacy than live solicitation calls. The

FCC also recognized that wireless customers are charged for incoming calls.¹

16. On January 4, 2008, the FCC released a Declaratory Ruling wherein it confirmed that autodialed and prerecorded calls to a wireless number by a creditor, or on behalf of a creditor, are permitted only if the calls are made with the “prior express consent” of the called party.²

17. On July 10, 2015, the FCC issued FCC Order 15-72, wherein the FCC³ stated that “[a] caller may not limit the manner in which revocation [of prior express consent to call] may occur” and that the “burden is on the caller to prove it obtained the necessary prior express consent”. Id. at ¶ 30.

18. Further, consumers (like the Plaintiff) may revoke consent through any reasonable means. Id. at ¶ 47.

19. Nothing in the language of the TCPA or its legislative history supports the notion that Congress intended to override a consumer’s common law right to revoke consent. Id. at ¶ 58.

20. Indeed, some consumers may find unwanted intrusions by phone more offensive than home mailings because they can cost them money and because, for many, their phone is with them at almost all times. Id. at ¶ 61.

21. Consumers have a right to revoke consent, using any reasonable method including orally or in writing. Id. at ¶ 64.

ALLEGATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL COUNTS

22. The Plaintiff endured a financial hardship and became unable to maintain payments on her COMENITY account.

23. As a result, COMENITY commenced placing collection calls to the Plaintiff, often calling the Plaintiff 10-15 times per day to collect on various accounts she maintained with COMENITY.

24. In or around September 2015, the Plaintiff, now annoyed by the daily barrage of COMENITY calls, advised COMENITY's collection representatives on several occasions to cease calls to her cell phone.

25. The Defendant's representative responded by advised the Plaintiff that it would however continue calling her until arrangements were made to repay the COMENTIY debt.

26. The Plaintiff advised that she could not arrangement payment given her financial hardship, and the Defendant's representatives stated that the Plaintiff would therefore continue receiving calls despite her request the calls cease.

27. True to its word, COMENITY continued its abusive call campaign and continued to call the Plaintiff multiple times per day despite the Plaintiff's demands the calls cease.

28. Indeed, COMENITY would often place calls from as many as 10-15 different phone numbers making it impossible for the Plaintiff identify who was calling her or allowing her to differentiate between the calls she wanted to receive and the calls (like Comenity's) that she wanted to ignore.

29. Upon information and belief, Defendant employs an automatic telephone dialing system ("ATDS") which meets the definition set forth in 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1).

30. Defendant or its agent/s contacted Plaintiff on Plaintiff's cellular telephone number ending in "4896" via an ATDS as defined by 47 U.S.C. § 227(a)(1), as prohibited by 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A).

31. In the calls that Plaintiff did answer, there would be a short pause lasting about two to three seconds between the time the calls were answered and the time that a live agent introduced themselves as a representative from Defendant.

32. Upon information and belief, based on the pause and lack of prompt human response during the phone calls in which Plaintiff answered, Defendant used a predictive dialing system to place calls to Plaintiff.

33. “A predictive dialer is equipment that dials numbers and, when certain computer software is attached, also assists [caller] in predicting when an [agent] will be available to take calls. The hardware, when paired with certain software, has the capacity to store or produce numbers and dial those numbers at random, in sequential order, or from a database of numbers.” Meyer v. Portfolio Recovery Associates, LLC, 707 F.3d 1036, 1043 (9th Cir. 2012).

34. The Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”) has determined that predictive dialing systems are a form of an automatic telephone dialing system. Id.

35. Upon information and belief, the predictive dialing system employed by Defendant transfers the call to a live agent once a human voice is detected, thus resulting in a pause after the called party speaks into the phone.

36. In or about September 2015, Plaintiff instructed Defendant or its agent(s) not to call the Plaintiff’s cell phone ever again thereby revoking consent, if any ever existed, to be contacted by Defendant via an ATDS.

37. Moreover, Defendant did not have prior express consent to place any automated or prerecorded calls to Plaintiff on Plaintiff’s cellular telephone at any time.

38. However, Defendant placed calls to the Plaintiff’s cellular telephone without consent using an ATDS in violation of the TCPA.

39. Defendant's ATDS has the capacity to store or produce telephone numbers to be called, using a random or sequential number generator.

40. The telephone number that Defendant used to contact Plaintiff was and is assigned to a cellular telephone service as specified in 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A)(iii).

41. Defendant's calls to Plaintiff's cellular telephone were not for "emergency purposes."

42. Pursuant to the TCPA and the FCC's January 2008 Declaratory Ruling, the burden is on Defendant to demonstrate that it had prior express consent to call Plaintiff's cellular phone with an ATDS.

43. The Plaintiff suffered actual harm and loss, since each of the unwanted calls depleted the Plaintiff's cell phone's battery, and the cost of electricity to recharge the phone is a tangible harm. While small, this cost is a real one, and the cumulative effect can be consequential, just as is true for exposure to X-rays resulting from the Defendant's unwanted phone calls to the Plaintiff's cell phone.

44. Plaintiff also suffered from an invasion of a legally protected interest by placing calls to the Plaintiff's personal phone line when the Defendant had no right to do so, resulting in an invasion of Plaintiff's right to privacy. The TCPA protects consumers from this precise behavior.

45. Plaintiff has a common law right to privacy. E.g., Samuel D. Warren &

Louis D. Brandeis, The Right to Privacy, 4 Harv. L. Rev. 1155, 193 (1890).

Congress sought to further protect that right by enacting the TCPA.

46. Plaintiff was also personally affected, since the Plaintiff felt that the Plaintiff's privacy had been invaded when the Defendant placed calls to the Plaintiff's phone line without any consent to do so.

47. The injury suffered by Plaintiff is concrete because Defendant's violations caused Plaintiff to suffer an invasion of privacy.

COUNT I

Negligent Violations of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, (47 U.S.C. § 227, et seq.)

48. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the above paragraphs of this Complaint and incorporates them herein by reference.

49. Defendant negligently placed multiple automated calls to cellular numbers belonging to Plaintiff without Plaintiff's prior express consent.

50. Each of the aforementioned calls by Defendant constitutes a negligent violation of the TCPA.

51. As a result of Defendant's negligent violations of the TCPA, Plaintiff is entitled to an award of $500.00 in statutory damages for each call in violation of the TCPA pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(B).

52. Additionally, Plaintiff is entitled to and seek injunctive relief prohibiting such conduct by Defendant in the future.

COUNT II

Knowing and/or Willful Violations of the Telephone Consumer Protection Act, (47 U.S.C. § 227, et seq.)

53. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the above paragraphs of this Complaint and incorporates them herein by reference.

54. Defendant knowingly and/or willfully placed multiple automated calls to cellular numbers belonging to Plaintiff without Plaintiff's prior express consent.

55. Each of the aforementioned calls by Defendant constitutes a knowing and/or willful violation of the TCPA.

56. As a result of Defendant's knowing and/or willful violations of the TCPA, Plaintiff is entitled to an award of treble damages up to $1,500.00 for each call in violation of the TCPA pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(B) and 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(C).

57. Additionally, Plaintiff is entitled to seek injunctive relief prohibiting such conduct by Defendant in the future.

COUNT III

Defendant's Violations of Nevada's Deceptive Trade Practices Act (NRS 598.0918)

58. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the above paragraphs of this Complaint and incorporates them herein by reference.

59. “Solicitation” means “the act of . . . seeking to obtain” something – in this case money. Solicitation, Black’s Law Dictionary (2d Pocket Ed. 2001).

60. Here, the Defendant solicited the Plaintiff to seek or obtain money from the Plaintiff.

61. On March 13, 2001, Assembly Bill 337 (AB 337) was introduced to the Nevada State Legislature. AB 337 revised Nevada’s Deceptive Trade Practices statutes codified at NRS 598 et seq.

62. As expressed by Marilyn Skibinski, Regulatory Analyst, Bureau of Consumer Protection, AB 337 was enacted to “provide[] additional protection for consumers.” See Minutes of the Meeting of the Assembly Committee on Commerce and Labor, 71st Session, April 4, 2001, page 1082, which can be viewed at <http://www.leg.state.nv.us/Division/Research/Library/LegHistory/LHs/2001/AB337,2001.pdf> (the “AB 337 Minutes”).

63. Further, AB 337 was specifically intended to apply to companies (like the Defendant) using “automatic calling” or automated dialing systems. As Ms. Rushton stated in response to Senator Maggie Carlton, “[that] is exactly what [AB 337 is intended to do.” Id. at page 4093.

64. In specific, AB 337 made it a deceptive trade practice to, during a solicitation by telephone, to repeatedly or continuously conduct the solicitation or presentation in a manner that is considered by a reasonable person to be annoying, abusive or harassing;

65. Defendant repeatedly and continuously placed telephone calls to the Plaintiff's residential phone (which is also the Plaintiff's cellular phone) to solicit money from the Plaintiff in a manner that would be considered annoying, abusive or harassing by a reasonable person.

66. Specifically, Defendant placed 10-15 calls to Plaintiff's cell phone even on a daily basis even after the Plaintiff demanded Defendant cease calls to the Plaintiff. Such conduct is unquestionably harassing and annoying.

67. As a direct consequence of Defendant's harassing phone calls, acts, practices and conduct, the Plaintiff suffered and continues to suffer from anger, anxiety, emotional distress, frustration, rage, headaches, an upset stomach, heart palpitations, and has otherwise been totally annoyed by Defendant's intrusive and illegal phone calls. Plaintiff has also lost the use of personal and family time while enduring these frustrations, as well as lost time and minutes from cell phone use, for which the Plaintiff is charged a fee.

68. Defendant's violations of NRS 598.0918 constitute violations of NRS 41.600 and the Plaintiff is entitled to relief under NRS 41.600.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff prays that judgment be entered against the Defendant awarding the Plaintiff:

1. Injunctive relief prohibiting such violations of the TCPA by Defendant in the future;
2. Statutory damages of $500.00 for each and every call in violation of the TCPA pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(B);
3. Treble damages of up to $1,500.00 for each and every call in violation of the TCPA pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(C);
4. Actual damages including, but not limited to, the emotional distress the Plaintiff has suffered (and continues to suffer) as a result of the intentional, reckless, and/or negligent violations of NRS 598.0918 as permitted under NRS 41.600;

...

5. An award of attorney's fees and costs to counsel for Plaintiff; and
6. Such other relief as the Court deems just and proper.
